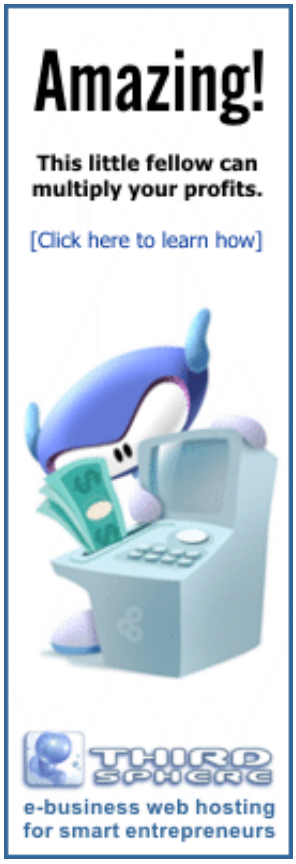
Script Scrilla is copyright 2004 Tebmu Inc. As a special bonus, you have been granted Royalty Free Rights to this entire package. You are permitted to customize all of the technology in any way that you see fit. You are also permitted to sell or give a way Script Scrilla as a bonus or premium to anyone in your internet business circle.

This edition of Script Scrilla comes to you, courtesy of David. This amazing resource is already working for Maschke, generating leveraged traffic and profits 24 hours a day.

Be sure to check out Maschke's latest internet project by clicking here.



Here's a special, un-announced bonuses for all users of Script Scrilla, regardless of which edition you have. For the past year and a half, I have been working with ThirdSphere Hosting. I have been continuously impressed by the remarkable benefits Miguel has implemented over that time.

Between the scripts that you will find throughout this package and my affiliation with Third Sphere, I spend at least $140 less every month than most internet marketers using the same resources.

Whether you have just started your internet venture or have been around for a while, I can guarantee you that ThirdSphere Hosting has everything that a serious netrepreneur could possibly think of. What's more is that if they don't have it yet, they will.

For a limited time, I'll put my money where my mouth is. I have negotiated a special arrangement for you! You can take 30 days to explore everything that ThirdSphere has to offer 100% FREE! If this isn't the best web-hosting company you have ever seen, simply cancel the service and owe absolutely nothing... plus you can keep whatever profits you make in that time.

Note: Be sure to sign up through the link above. You will more than likely surf away from the FREE page. If you do, just come back here... you won't find the FREE offer anywhere else.

Before you begin downloading all of the internet technology that you have at your disposal, you will need to be sure that you have some sort of unzipping utility to access the applications. You probably already have Winzip, and that should work fine. However, I would suggest that you download Win Rar. It is FREE and it allows you to open up .tar extensions, which you'll need to be able to do.

Full Featured Autoresponder Software

Autoresponders are very powerful business tools that can do a variety of things for you. They are very similar to having a salesperson working for you 24 hours a day. I decided to include this autoresponder software with Script Scrilla because I've been seeing too many marketers without a competent autoresponder.

Many marketers are either using a single autoresponder with no personalization or HTML ability, or they are paying out money every month, just to use someone else's server.

You will now be able to setup unlimited autoresponders with personalization features and blazing fast speeds... and it all runs off of your own domain. Running your own autoresponder shows that you are a professional and serious about your business.

There are definitely a lot of different autoresponder services out there that want your business. I'm still a big believer that there is no need to pay monthly for anything that you don't have to. When you are ready for an even more complete, all in one mailing system, be sure to check out PostMaster Software. This software is heavily endorsed by Terry Dean and Marlon Sanders. If you are ready for the Rolls Royce of automated marketing, you are ready for PostMaster Software.

Note: Regardless of what kind of autoresponder you use, please understand that autoresponders are not exempt from Can-Spam. As a matter of fact, they are probably a bit more susceptible because people tend to forget what they have signed up for.

Make sure you are checking all of your outgoing messages so you can be confident that your readers are reading them. You can get an instant spam report from Ken Evoy anytime you need one for FREE, or you can get a complete anti-spam solution with Dori Friend's e-Filtrate.

Feature Rich Affiliate Software

Affiliate programs will continue to be a phenomenal way to build a large business on the internet. The most interesting thing about these kinds of programs is that their popularity is still just now catching on.

Big name companies are just now beginning to see the power of running their own affiliate programs in conjunction with their products and services. Meanwhile, major players in the internet marketing arena like Neil Shearing have been earning 6 figures every year by leveraging the efforts of others.

You have two different affiliate scripts to choose from with Script Scrilla. Both have a lot of good features and will allow you to run your very own affiliate program on the internet. Take full control of your business by paying people to sell your products. When you think about it, you don't even need your own products. I know of a lot of marketers that do pretty well by giving their affiliates the opportunity to market products that they have resell rights to.

Both of these applications will get you in the game. Remember that you are allowed to customize these scripts to do any and everything that you need them to do. That means you can literally set yourself apart from other programs on the web.

If you don't really feel like building on the technology already in front of you, I do know of two plug n profit solutions that will have you up and running tonight. ThirdSphere already has some very solid affiliate software built into their web hosting service. Terry Dean's Make Buying Easy can also run a super charged affiliate program at very little cost.

E-mail For Cash Software

Nine times out of ten, people that receive e-mail advertisements discard the message as soon as they get it. There is just so much of the "same ole, same ole" available on the web, folks become numb to the offers.

I equate it to all of the R rated material you can see on regular television these days. You didn't used to see these kinds of things 15 or 20 years ago, but people have been de-sensatized to the graphic nature of television today.

This means that you have to give readers a reason to check out your offers. By paying the people who read your advertisements, you are sure to generate sales and subscribers.

Some folks don't really see the point in these kinds of "paid to" systems, but I believe they are still useful. First of all, they give internet marketers who aren't making much money a way to earn some kind of guaranteed income. That's important.

Secondly, as your "paid to" service becomes more and more popular, the price that you can charge for advertising space will shoot up. There are newsletters across the web that charge $100 and above for an ad in their publication with 20 or 30,000 subscribers.

The only drawback is that the ad is not guaranteed to be read. People will read your ads through a service like this, at the very least, just to get paid. Your advertisers will have a better chance at increased sales, and of course, you will build a large contact list.

Hey... what about a newsletter where YOU PAY your readers for reading?

Just a thought...

pLog Blogging Software

Blogs are in full effect on the web... especially in the e-commerce side of things. When CNN is talking about it, you can be sure that it is catching on.

Blogs are great business building tools. They promote customer and subscriber loyalty by allowing people to see what you and your company are really all about. They can also bring in some great money for you.

In my opinion, blogs work very well as "tour guides". You can get on a topic about a product or service that you promote and really explain how it works in your own words. By doing this, you give your readers the opportunity to make educated decisions in regards to the products that you refer.

What many people miss out on is the fact that blogs produce volumes and volumes of original content that can be packaged up weekly or monthly and turned into full-fledged info products.

If you take a look at Marketing Vox, you will see that they follow that model. There should be more internet marketers doing things in this way. You can take a free blog with quality content and turn it into a cash cow.

Screenshot Video Software

Screenshot videos have become quite the craze over the past few months. If you are not familiar, a screenshot video allows you to display all of your movements on your computer screen in video form.

You can produce a wide variety of money-making products with screenshot videos, which is the reason that the software applications in this field are so costly. You can easily sell a screenshot video series (with audio, of course) for $67... even $97.

Come to think of it, you know those Video Professor CD-Roms? Did you know that those are basically screenshot videos on CD? Video Professor is a multi-million dollar company!

Lets say that you know how to write .cgi scripts. As opposed to trying to explain it in a book, why not show it on video. You could charge triple the amount because of your high quality videos. Put those on CD and watch your income rise like yeast.

Lets say that you know all of the intricate details of setting up a web business. Why not target small businesses that are just now getting online, and show them how to get a web presence with your videos? The sky is the limit!

Note: To get the most out of the screenshot video software, you are going to need a high quality microphone that provides digital quality sound with little to no background noise. You will also want to run this software on the fastest computer you have at your disposal.

Linking Systems

Believe it or not, links still run the internet. The more relative websites you have your business URL linked to, the more targeted traffic you will receive. Unfortunately, it can be quite a hassle to manually contact site after site, trying to find good partners.

Automate the process with these link exchange applications and you will find that you are getting reciprocal links at a much faster rate.

The internet is all about helping people find exactly what they are looking for in an efficient manor.

Topsites are a great way to do that, when they are done correctly. A topsite is a site that allows people to add their website, and then it tracks the number of hits from that site, and the number of hits to that site from yours. The most popular sites are always listed at the top.

The topsite scripts that you are about to download are of high quality, and have a lot of flexibility.

If you do create a topsite website, I suggest that you use some creativity. Don’t just flood your topsite with links. That’s why FFA pages are of no use anymore. Add some content to it. A top site is a great compliment to a blog. People can add their site and see their traffic, but that traffic will be worth much more because you have original content that people come for everyday.

Your advertisers are more likely to get more traffic, especially if your site is a niche site, which means you can charge more for the advertising space.

PHP Ads New

Don’t let anyone tell you lies. Banner, flash, pop-up, and javascript ads can still make you some great money. I don’t think Yahoo, MSN, New York Times, and other sites would waste their time with these kinds of ads if they didn’t make money. Companies are always looking for ways to advertise their business.

I’ll let you in on a little secret, though. The reason people say banner ads don’t work is because they are working from the wrong end of the spectrum. If you want to make real money with advertisements, YOU have to be the one that is hosting the ads.

A lot of revenue is generated by the big sites on the web through paying advertisers. Advertisers pay to have their promotions targeted towards the people that will act on them.

PHP Ads New is a phenomenal system that will allow you to add unlimited, high powered advertising options to your website. Again, this is a "big boy" application that is meant to boost your income potential to another level. Very easy to install and work with!

Embedded Multimedia

As you are probably becoming aware, multimedia is the next wave of the internet. As the high speed internet wars rage on, broadband internet connections will become more and more accessible.

Now is definitely the time to get ahead of the curve. For instance, if you take a look at Jim Edwards' I Gotta Tell You newsletter, you will find an outstanding, unique multimedia newsletter that is poised for big success.

By using audio and video in your internet business, you are able to convey your personality to your audience. Written words are great, but a nice audio message can increase sales and loyalty tenfold.

Audio products can be easily added to CD-Rom, along with video, to bring in some serious profits for you. Audio and video can also be a great mix with a membership site. By creating unique content using multimedia delivery, you could create a membership site that people flock to in droves, paying you nicely in the process.

Click Here To Download The Audio Package

In order to record your audio presentations, download Audacity or Audio Playback. You will also find other FREE audio recorders inside of the zip file you just downloaded. Don't forget that you need a high quality microphone for crystal clear clarity and little to no background noise.

Audio is being merged into our marketing efforts more and more everyday. Audio Generator gives you the ability to send crystal clear audio postcards. Sonic Memo instantly creates professional flash buttons for all of the multimedia files that you stream. You can download a FREE version of Sonic Memo right now and try it out.

I also found a phenomenal multimedia streaming software over at VideoLan that will allow you to stream LIVE media across the web. Talk about getting ahead of the curve! You could conduct live seminars, charging people hundreds (or thousands) of dollars, and your attendees wouldn't even have to leave their home.

Those are just a few ideas. Whatever you do, move swiftly and stay ahead of the curve. Remember that the internet moves fast, and you have to keep your "ear to the street" and your creative juices flowing if you want to succeed.

Making Money With Script Scrilla

Did you know that you could have hundreds, if not thousands of customized copies of Script Scrilla spreading across the internet, earning cash for you 24 hours a day, 365 days a year?

As you can see, all of the resources in Script Scrilla are extremely valuable. You could easily pay upwards of $97 for this bundle, not to mention you will save at least $300 when you begin using the software.

Do you think that other marketers will find Script Scrilla useful?
